

ABOUT US

Estate sales and/or liquidation of personal possessions can be a complex, sensitive and even overwhelming task for any individual, family or executor. Irrespective of the reason (e.g., downsizing, divorce, death, etc.), it is our goal to provide an efficient and effective community service that will lessen the burden and simply make your transition easier.

We are committed to professionalism and have the innate ability to understand and relate to what our clients are experiencing; which is why services are tailored to meet individual and situational needs during challenging times.

Our team is personable, honest and bring a wealth of individual subject matter expertise in the field of antiques, collectibles, art, furniture, tools and everyday household merchandise. This knowledge lends itself the ability to provide fair market valuations when assessing merchandise to get the best possible return.
